Town's First Parking Garage Planned for Witherspoon-Spring Area

"Terrible!

"I hope and pray that some action can be taken soon."

The subject: traffic in midtown Princeton.

The Borough doesn't keep a running traffic count, but it's everybody's subjective impression that traffic this September — always the beginning of the year in this academic town — is worse in 1973 than it was in 1972, in 1971.

The man who said "Terrible!" is George Olexa, the Borough's assistant engineer, who is scarcely inexperienced in the subject.

The one who hopes and prays for action is Borough Councilman, Thomas Cawley, chairman of Council's parking committee.

And it looks as though he's going to get it. Next Tuesday, the planning board will pass a resolution naming the Witherspoon-Spring parking areas as the location for the town's first parking garage.

Eventually, there will be a two-part garage, one on the library parking lot, the other on the Spring-Tulane lot, bridged across Spring. Phase I will be a garage on the library site only, set far enough back from Witherspoon to be unobtrusive.

Housing won't be part of the new garages, incidentally. Mayor

Robert W. Cawley said this week that combining garages and apartments is too expensive. For some time, officials had considered the combination.

Parking structures (officials like "structures" instead of the earthier "garages") and removal of on-street parking are two ways Princeton can, at least partially, solve the traffic problem, Thomas Cawley says.

One reason traffic on Nassau seems too bad, he reminds everyone, is that cars are trying to park and trucks are unloading against the curb.

"A car trying to park is worse than a parked car," he points out. "If you remove curb parking from the street, then trucks could unload against the curb — rear unloading for stores just doesn't seem feasible, overall — and this would mean traffic could flow more easily."

The pace of municipal action may seem almost as slow as progress down Nassau on a September Friday afternoon, but the Borough owns that parking land, which accelerates the process quite a bit.

With a site chosen, the next step will be preliminary design, then cost estimates and financing. The financial structure will require even more careful design than the building itself. Should it be financed from general revenues? Should it be a kind of public utility, paying for itself with its customers revenue backed by the municipality to lower its bond costs?

Meanwhile...

Early this summer, the Borough received the final report from its traffic consultants, Travers Associates, and municipal engineer Donald Harney and Borough Council and Planning Board are looking over recommendations about what to do with the Borough's Seven Worst Intersections. This is the survey done under TOPICS, the Federally-funded traffic program.

"IF ELECTED. . . ."
Campaign Begins. All four divisions in Princeton's annual municipal pennant race spoke up this week.

Township Democrat, Mayor
Jay Bleiman, running for re-election, and his running mate Ellen Peterson, running for the one-year term that's available this year in the Township, held a full-fledged press conference.

On the other side of municipal and party lines, Borough Republican candidates Robert Pois and Margaret Penick took a firm stand on sewers.
Their opponents, the two incumbent Democratic Borough Councilmen who are running for re-election (Joseph Moore and Martin Lombardo) announced a fund raising "Happening" and appointment of a campaign committee.

Township Republican candidate Everett Garretson, running against Mayor Bleiman, and Sanford Reynolds, running for a one-year extension of the seat he already holds, joined their Borough colleagues in opening party headquarters at 195 Nassau.

Township: In a brief statement, Mayor Bleiman said he will run a low-key campaign on his record: "This past year, we have done much on Committee for which we can justly be proud," and he listed budgetary innovations, non-partisan appointments to boards; addition of two young ship's staff; Phase I of bikeways; flood control study of Harry's Brook and creation of joint (with the Borough) commissions on consolidation and cable TV.

His running-mate, Ellen Peterson, is chairman of the Township's Board of Health and a member of the Intergovernmental Drug Abuse Prevention Committee. She expressed concern with procedures (Mrs. Peterson is a lawyer, L.L.B., Harvard) and she told the press conference she found a "total lack of procedures" when she joined the health board. The board is now assembling, for the first time, a procedures manual, she said.

"There is too little citizen education on the implications of a decision," she observed,
"and often the data or input are inadequate to help us make a decision."

She then stepped into a political lions' den and said that,
as a board of health member,
it was her observation that the Township's dog-control ordinance "needs some revision."

"I don't personally favor a 24-hour leash law," she said, but I think we must better define the word 'vicious' related to dogs."

She said one of the reasons

she decided to run for Committee was to work for more financial support from neighboring towns for the drug work being done at Corner House.

Other Democratic points:

Taxes: Mayor Bleiman said that, among Township Committeemen, "money is non-partisan. Republicans and Democrats are all aware that it's incumbent on us to hold taxes down as much as we possibly can. This year," he said, "we've had the lowest rate of tax increase since '69
— 7.8 percent. And if we'd had construction and a consequent enlarging of our rate-able base, it could have been an actual drop. But we only had .9 percent increase in rateables."

Consolidation: Town ship members to the study commission have already been chosen, the Borough's are due to be named soon.

Firearms: "I'm not yet persuaded we can't work out a way to allow hunting in a way that's safe for the public,"
Mr. Bleiman said. "Our problem is not Princeton hunters, but out-of-towners who come here."

Housing: The town may explore ways private and public sectors could buy and build, the mayor said. Mrs. Peterson added that local governing bodies can indeed push state and federal agencies into action: "We don't knock on the door often enough," she said.

Traffic Problems

Presumably, the state has given the approving nod to Travers' proposals, but Mr. Harney says the Borough can't do much until detailed plans, location by location, come from state designers. Then public hearings followed by Council approval, before anything can be done.

Presumably, the state has given the nod to Travers' proposals, but Mr. Harney says the Borough can't do much until detailed plans, location by location, come from state designers. Then come public hearings followed by Council approval, before anything can be done.

These proposals are small, indeed so modest that there's a real question about how much they would help Borough traffic. Mostly they involve widening part of a street, or gentling the radius of a sharp turn. All recommendations, Mr. Harney emphasizes, are based on safety and vehicular circulation — not on pedestrian traffic at all.

1 Vandeventer - Washington - Nassau: widen the east side of Washington, moving the curb back for an easier right turn into Nassau; across the street, on the Methodist Church corner, widen Van

Widener by about eight feet, chiefly to line up the jagged Vandeventer - Washington intersection. Enlarge curb radii to about 25 feet, from the present radius of approximately 15, making an easier turn from Vandeventer west into Nassau.

2 Nassau and Harrison: on its eastern side, widen Harrison on both sides of Nassau — the Princeton Gourmet side and the Anthony's Hairdresser side. Move back all four curb radii, making a 30 foot radius on three of the four corners, and a 25 foot radius on the Gourmet corner, where there isn't much room. Present radii on this corner are only 15 feet, or possibly less, Mr. Harney says.

3 Avalon-Chambers-Wiggins: eliminate the concrete island and part of the flower garden island, and build a whole new island. Widen the west side of Chambers, where it joins Avalon, removing part of the brick wall and selected trees, to provide a full 250 feet of sight lines down Avalon.

"It's weird, that intersection," Mr. Harney observes, "in spite of the fact it's a bad intersection, we've had only one motor vehicle thing there in almost six years, and that was a single-car problem where the driver went temporarily out of control."

4 Wiggins and Witherspoon:

widen Witherspoon's corner on the public library side for an easier turn into Wiggins, widen Wiggins four or five feet on the cemetery side and move the Witherspoon curb back, again to make an easier turn from Wiggins down Witherspoon.

5 Hamilton and Harrison: change the curbs at all four corners, with the greatest change at the northwest corner, diagonally across from Queenston Common. This radius would be enlarged to 22 feet, with a slight widening of the north side of Hamilton. This heavily traveled intersection would be opened up by widening both the east and west sides of Harrison.

6 Nassau and Witherspoon: minimum changes at this intersection would involve redesign of both Witherspoon curbs, to allow easier turns from and into Nassau.

7 Mercer - Nassau - University: paint out the present painted "island" and build a concrete one in its place, where Mercer enters Nassau; allow the present one-way traffic on Mercer Street Extension to turn right (south) down University Place ONLY, and forbid cars to cross University Place and then go eastward on Nassau, or make the sharp left to travel west on Nassau. An extended curb at the end of the present Garden Club island, would steer drivers psychologically away from that sharp left and the down Nassau route and a curb cut by the parking lot would make an easier turn down University Place. A small curb change would be made on the east side of Nassau at the corner of Bank, for easier turns into Bank Street.

In the labyrinthine authorities of town, county and state highway departments, it's sometimes difficult to know who does what next. But Mr. Harney says the Borough can't do anything about these changes until the state submits its own designs for each proposal.

The state, in the person of George S. Horner, of the Bureau of Local Federal Aid Programs, says that counties put together a package of intersections designed to use up whatever money is available. Usually, accident data and extreme congestion are the factors considered by both state and county, which doesn't make Princeton's position look very bright.

Cost of work like this is 70-80, Mr. Horner says. Under a very new ruling, the Federal government now pays 70 percent of the cost (it used to be 50), and the state, 30 percent. There is some money in the states' budget for such projects, but nobody seems to know exactly how many dollars to pass around.

full-time planning staff, Mayor Blennan said. The state has rejected an application for money toward this end but another application will be made.

IN THE BOROUGH

Republicans, "Unsound" is the word used by Council Republican candidates Robert Pols and Margaret Penick to describe the single-plant proposal of the Stony Brook Regional Sewer Authority. They describe the plant as "one huge facility" in Princeton, which would "rip up the landscape from here to Hopewell" and force the kind of suburban sprawl along its route that plagues North Jersey.

The two candidates announce their support for three plants located throughout the area, as "less expensive and far less damaging to the region and its water supply."

ONE NIGHT, TWO CRIMES

For 17-Year Old Juvenile. When University security notified Borough police Saturday morning at 3:59 that they had a 17-year-old Borough youth in custody for trespassing at Blair Hall on campus, police, in investigating, became suspicious when they found a large amount of change in his pockets.

Police later determined that the suspect had broken into the Applegate Floral Shop on Palmer Square Friday night by way of a rear window. Inside, he forced open a cash register, taking $30 in cash, $15 in change and a wristwatch — later identified by the owner.

The youth was charged with breaking and entering and taken to the Mercer County Youth House to await action by juvenile authorities. Chief Michael Carnevale remarked that it was the third time the same juvenile had been arrested in the past three weeks.

THEY'LL RUN
For County Study Group.
Six residents of the Princeton area have either filed or have said they plan to file, for election to the nine-member commission that will study reform of Mercer County government if the measure passes in November.

Those who have filed petitions are W. Harry Sayen, 167 Edgerstone Road; Kay McGrath, 89 Dempsey Avenue; Eric Bolusky, Lawrence Township and M. Patricia Tinsley, Cranbury.

A. C. Reeves Hicks, 30 Pheasant Hill Road, has announced that he will file, and so has Nancy Schluter of Pennington.

Mr. Sayen is Republican chairman for Mercer County and as such, would be an ex officio member of the new commission in any case. But he says he wants to be elected so he can have a full vote. Mrs. Schluter, also a Republican, is legislative campaign co-ordinator for the Republican legislative candidates in Mercer. Her husband is running for re-election to the State Senate.

Mrs. McGrath has been active for 14 years in the League of Women Voters, having served as vice-president of the English. Leslie Vivian, president of the United Fund, approached Eric Mihan, owner of The English Shop, and told him about Mr. Frank's idea. He agreed to donate half of The English Shop's proceeds.

"Alan came up with a good idea," Mr. Mihan declares. "A good idea, for a good cause. So far, there are just the two of us, but I fervently hope that next year — a lot more."

"I ask the question, 'Do you think the United Fund is good for Princeton?' Well, if it is, then it's good for business and you know? It's only money."

Mr. Frank recalls a similar plan followed about 15 years ago, when Palmer Square merchants, in a low-key way, without advertising, agreed to give part of their proceeds to the Fund.

"It opened my eyes," Mr. Frank says. "It didn't kill us to do it! No, I can't claim authorship."

Mr. Mihan, observing that it's "one day's business out of a whole year — what we're really giving, in a way, is our profit. And I have yet to find when I was ever sorry for giving anything. Maybe it hurts for a short time, but somehow, you get it back."

Alan Frank's involvement with the Princeton United Fund goes back more than a decade. He has been president of the Fund, campaign chairman and holder of all the offices on the Fund ladder that lead to the top presidential rung. He is still a member of the board of trustees.

Langrock's and The English Shop may be hard-nosed competitors when it comes to selling a fine sports jacket, but these next-door Nassau Street neighbors are united on one thing: support for the Princeton United Fund.

Next Monday, October 1, both stores will give one-half the day's proceeds to this year's fund drive.

Langrock. "My feeling is that the agencies of the United Fund are absolutely essential to the Princeton community," says Langrock's owner, Alan Frank, whose idea it is.

"The question — how best to support the Fund? Well, I've been thinking about it for a long time, maybe a year, and I say you can't use yesterday's tools for today's job. You need innovation. Old established ways of fund raising — they don't seem to do the job. So I thought this up to stimulate people's thinking, be provocative — and unselfish."

Tenure policies will probably occupy most of the evening next Tuesday when the Princeton Regional Board of Education holds its regular public meeting. The board will meet at 8 p.m. in Community Park School.

Board President Hannah Fox predicts that the question of setting a ceiling of 80 percent on the number of tenured teachers will be raised Tuesday.

The board will be discussing a report on hiring procedures prepared by administrators, a report from the superintendent on whether to set a certain percentage on the number of tenured teachers (the superintendent recommends "no") a report from the citizens' committee that studied tenure and a paper on the evaluation of teaching. Questions of tenure, hiring and evaluation of teachers are interlocked and have a high priority in the minds of board members, Mrs. Fox says.

Also on Tuesday's agenda will be a report on home instruction for suspended students, and a progress report on students studying outside the high school.

victim of a vicious mugging last week as he was walking in the dark on College Road near Springdale Golf Club. University security officers transported the victim, in a state of shock, to the University Infirmary, where he was treated for multiple cuts and bruises. Police declined to identify him.

According to the police report, the victim was accosted by three men around 10:45 p.m. When he attempted to walk around them, he was struck several times on the head and knocked into the bushes.

When his assailants asked him for money and the victim replied that he had no wallet, police said the three threatened to kill him. They removed his wristwatch, took a small amount of change from his pocket and left him.

Police said that one of the assailants was armed with a chain, a second with a hunting knife. Ptl. Ronald Holliday and Ptl. Robert Mucciarulli of the Borough police are continuing the investigation.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

His Weapon: A Bus. An Edison man was charged by Borough police Monday with the assault and battery of a 39-year-old woman in which his weapon was, in essence, a bus. Chief Michael Carnevale described it as a "unique case." Walter Wits, 43, a driver for the Suburban Transit Bus Company, is scheduled to appear in Borough Court Wednesday. He is charged with causing an injury to the hand of the victim, a resident of New York City, which required 11 sutures to repair.

Police received a complaint from the victim last Wednesday evening. She told police she had been thrown from a moving bus which she was attempting to exit on Nassau Street near Bayard Lane. It had been done on purpose by the driver, she added.

Det. Anthony Ranfone was assigned to investigate. According to the police, the driver allegedly became annoyed when the woman unfamiliar with the area kept asking where the next stop was. A dialogue developed between the two changing to verbal abuse. The driver, according to police, called the woman "stupid."

When the woman attempted to get off the bus, the police report continues, the driver allegedly started the bus in motion before the woman's foot was firmly in contact with the curb.

Chief Carnevale said that after a lengthy investigation by Det. Ranfone and a statement of a witness, the police charged the driver. "Our department did its level best to investigate this complaint," he said.

MANAGER IS STRUCK

In U-Store Incident. A manager of the University Store was struck shortly after noon Thursday by the fist of a person he had told to leave.

According to police, when the manager told Rodney Petty, 23, of 19 Bank Street, who was allegedly uttering obscenities and was creating a disturbance in the store to stop or leave, Petty turned on him. A customer, never identified by police, grappled with Petty.

who police said, flipped the would be Good Samaritan over his shoulder down a flight of stairs.

Sgt. Ralph Procaccino, answering a call for police aid, picked up Petty a few minutes later on University Place. Charged with assault and battery, Petty is scheduled to appear in court on Wednesday.

Police declined to reveal the name of the manager.

MAN FINED $50

For Assault, Malicious Damage. John Caruso, of Pine Tree Cottages, Route 1, was fined $50 last week by Judge Philip Carchman in Borough criminal court.

Caruso was fined $25 for striking Anthony Filippini, a bartender at the Grotto Restaurant on Witherspoon Street in the face, and $25 for malicious damage when he broke some glasses and bottles. The incident took place September 1.

Antoine DePradines, 73 Clay Street, was fined $15 for assault. The complaint summons was signed by Marie DePradines, Edward F. Grant, 184 Witherspoon, pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault but was fined $15. Kim Ottes was the complainant.

Flora Lee Ottes, 184 Witherspoon, was found not guilty of two charges of assault lodged by Mr. Grant. She had pleaded not guilty to both.

DRIVER IS CHARGED

With Marijuana Possession. A 20-year-old Trenton man has been charged by Township police with possession of under 25 grams of marijuana.

Dennis J. Rowcotsky was stopped Friday night at 10:30 on Province Line Road by Ptl. Mario Musso, making a routine car check. During his investigation, Ptl. Musso observed the alleged marijuana in the car's glove compartment.

Rowcotsky was taken to police headquarters, charged and later released in his own recognizance. He faces a hearing October 17 in Township Court.

THREE ARE FINED

In Borough Court. Three Princeton area residents were fined Monday by Judge Philip Carchman in Borough traffic court. Each paid $15.

They are Elis Velichovsky, 73 Hartley Avenue, improper turn, Stewart R. Bell, 14 Tee Ar Place, careless driving.

"We Told You So"

The theft of a $650 camera Sunday from a car parked on University Place underlines, Chief Michael Carnevale said, exactly what his department is trying to prevent.

Borough police are leaving crime prevention notices on windshields, noting whether the car was unlocked, keys were in the ignition or valuable articles left in plain view.

This particular car was locked, said Chief Carnevale, but the camera was left in view. "It's amazing," he added, "how many are guilty of all three: leaving articles unattended, keys in the ignition and doors unlocked." In some cases, drivers even left their motors running.

and Cynthia A. Kandrac, 61 Franklin Corner Road, Lawrenceville, stop sign.

SILVERWARE IS TAKEN From Ridgeview Circle Home.

A silverware set, other silver articles and an undetermined amount of jewelry and cash were stolen Friday between noon and 2 p.m. from a home on Ridgeview Circle.

Township police report that the home was entered by forcing a side door. Ptl. David Cromwell investigated.

Pocketbook Taken.

Mary F. Bonotto, 48 Clover Lane, reported the theft last week of her pocketbook from her car while it was parked on Harris Road.

Her blue leather pocketbook contained $72.30 in cash, four credit cards, three checkbooks, driver's license and personal papers. Mrs. Bonotto placed the total value at $162.30. Police said that the thief opened the car door and took the pocketbook.

Another Pocketbook Theft.

Heidrun Evans of Levittown, Pa., who teaches at the University Nursery School, 171 Broadmead, reported the theft last week of her pocketbook, which she had placed on a hanger in a closet in the room where she was teaching. She lost $15.

Mrs. Evans told Ptl. William Potts that she had taken a key from her pocketbook around 3:30. At 3:45 she took her class out for playtime. When she returned, her pocketbook was missing.

SEWER APPROVAL?

Mayors to Meet Sullivan. Princeton's two mayors will meet this Friday with Commissioner Richard Sullivan of the state's Environmental Protection department to try to ascertain the status of sewer plans proposed by the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority.

Commissioner Sullivan's department has already decided to give the Authority's single treatment plant proposal its technical approval. Ezra Bixby, Authority chairman, said Mr. Sullivan told him last week that he was forwarding the single plant proposal to Federal officials.

Meanwhile, the state's Division of Water Resources has assigned a pair of engineers full-time to a study of the Authority's plans. They will spend the next two or three weeks in the evaluation so the plans can be forwarded for Federal examination.

CONVERSION SOUGHT

For Vandeventer Building.

In the only case to appear before the Borough Zoning Board this Thursday night (8 p.m., Borough Hall) William L. Bunting of Cranbury will seek approval to convert a three-story building at 16 Vandeventer Avenue to joint occupancy. Mr. Bunting plans to convert the first floor, where there is an apartment now, to office use, and the second floor, which presently houses roomers, to an apartment. A third floor apartment would remain.

The building is located in a residential-office zone and the proposed conversion requires a conditional use authorization — provided that the applicant can supply the same number of off-street parking spaces in this case seven, that would be required for new construction. Mr. Bunting can provide only four spaces; therefore, according to a spokesman for the zoning department, the application becomes an application for a use variance. There would be no structural changes.

Mr. Bunting, who recently purchased the building and maintains a law office at 245 Nassau Street, has received favorable site plan review from the Regional Planning Board.

MAN FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

Charged With Drug Violations. A 20-year-old Hightstown resident has been charged with being under the influence of a controlled dangerous substance and possession of a hypodermic needle after Borough police allegedly discovered him unconscious in a men's room at Princeton Medical Center.

David McMillan of Dutch Neck Road was later released in his own recognizance. He is scheduled to appear in court on Wednesday.

McMillan was discovered by Ptl. Ronald Holliday who was at the center's dispensary at 2:35 Monday morning. Police said that McMillan, who reportedly had been driven to the hospital by someone, later became violent and had to be restrained by officers and treated by doctors. Some of the drug he allegedly used

SOLID WASTE?

Meeting This Saturday. "A regional approach is very desirable," said Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week in regard to disposing of garbage. "and I am for the County doing SOMETHING."

Mercer County has invited its constituent mayors to a Saturday conference. The county's plan for solid waste disposal will be unveiled and mayors will be asked to comment.

Mayor Cawley speculated that any county proposal for regional disposal of solid waste might not necessarily be cheaper for Princeton, but he added that, in the long run, it might be worthwhile to participate.

Unusual Freshman Has a Wish: She'd Like to Become an Ordinary One

Like any other Princeton University freshman, Maria Imelda Marcos still has trouble finding her way around the campus, already has trouble choosing what courses to take and what organizations to join, but has no trouble getting into the student pub, even though she's still 17.

Unlike most freshmen, however, Miss Marcos has seen a bit of the world. Her slacks are collegiate denim, but the shirt is a Paris designer's model and the scarf is Christian Dior. Asked how she likes Commons, the undergraduate eating facility, she replied in a proper English accent: "Well, it's not exactly the Four Seasons, but it will do."

Miss Marcos, the daughter of Philippines President Ferdinand E. Marcos, is not an ordinary freshman — but she's trying desperately to become one. Based on the poise, charm and good humor she displayed at a press conference last week, she should soon succeed.

When the University announced last April that Miss Marcos had been admitted to the Class of 1977, the Asian-American Students Association protested that the presence of Philippine security agents on the campus might intimidate Asian students — especially those who have been critical of the president's martial law and who have families living abroad.

After negotiations with the University, the Philippine government decided that Miss Marcos would live off campus, in a rented house at 231 Dodds Lane, that security men would drive her to and from the campus, but that none would accompany her on the campus.

Maria Imelda Marcos

Missing Too Much. That arrangement apparently has satisfied the Asian students. Miss Marcos clearly despises it.

"I'm missing far too much of what's happening," said Miss Marcos, whose nickname is Imce, pronounced Imy. "I'm dying to move over to the campus."

Miss Marcos developed an interest in law while attending a private school in England. One attraction in Princeton was the Woodrow Wilson School. Extracurricular activities may include either The Daily Princetonian, the campus paper, or Theatre Intime — "I'm desperately stage struck."

Political Overdose. After two weeks on campus Miss Marcos had not yet been asked about her father, which is fine with her. "I'm very apolitical. I've probably had an overdose of politics," she says. Her fellow students probably feel likewise.

The reporters, of course, did ask about her father. "I always remember my father talking about the importance of freedom and democracy, and when I heard martial law had been enacted I was very upset. But when I went home I was amazed to see the strides that had been made," she said.

"The American press has been unfair," she said. "They should go to the Philippines and see first-hand."

How did she like Princeton? The reporters wanted to know. "It's nice to see a university where the Oriental qualities of the intellectual and the spiritual haven't died," she said. "I like the personalized education."

Late Hours. What about the security men? "I have two," she said. "They take turns driving me to and from campus. Cheap thrills."

When does she leave the campus? "As late as possible every night."

Later that night, about midnight, Miss Marcos and a girl friend were socializing with two Princeton men over at the crowded, noisy student pub.

Somewhere on the edge of the campus, sitting in a parked car and fidgeting with his walkie talkie, a short, squat Filipino security man was cooling his heels.

Things will get off to a start with the 1947 filming of Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings' story, "The Yearling" with Gregory Peck, to be shown October 13. The next one will be "Fantastic Voyage," a 1966 sci-fi thriller in which scientists are changed into germsized beings, small enough to go on a journey through the body of a man.

"Scrooge" is a British musical with Albert Finney based on Dickens' "A Christmas Carol." And then comes Charlie Chaplin's "The Circus," with Charlie playing a clown.

Other showings will be the 1971 "Black Beauty," most recent version of the eternal classic about a child's love for a horse; "Hugo and Josephine" a Swedish film with English dubbing; "Oliver!" which is Sir Carol Reed's film version of the play that was a theatrical version of "Oliver Twist," of course. Finally, the Beatles' own "The Yellow Submarine," a feature-length cartoon comedy with music.

If you subscribe to the whole series, you get a free bonus ticket to the Vagabond Marionettes at McCarter October 28. A brochure on films for children may be ordered by calling 921-8700.

TWO FILMS SCHEDULED

By Princeton Seminary. "David and Lisa," a film which garnered awards for directors Frank and Eleanor Perry, as well as for title role actors Keir Dullea and Janet Margolin, will receive a free public showing at the campus center auditorium of Princeton Theological Seminary on Sunday, October 7, at 7:30 p.m. Bergman's "The Seventh Seal" will be shown on Sunday, October 21, at the same hour and place.

The presentations are under the direction of the Reverend Dr. Hugh T. Kerr, the Seminary's Benjamin B. Warfield Professor of Systematic Theology, in connection with his first semester class "Symbolism and Theology."

"David and Lisa" is concerned with two emotionally disturbed adolescents who meet in a psychiatric clinic. David cannot permit anyone to touch him; Lisa speaks only in verse. Dialogue mingling with dreams leads to a dramatic final confrontation which some critics have termed redemptive and others have branded sentimental.

"The Seventh Seal," set in medieval Sweden, traces the homeward journey of Antonius Block, a knight returning from the Crusades during the Black Death. While society collapses around him and religion becomes fanatical, Block plays a game of chess with Death to protect the squire, a deaf and dumb girl and a troupe of actors who have joined him.

The title is taken from Revelation 8:1: "When the Lamb opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven." In addition to the fascination of the Bergman technique and the symbolism of the drama, the film provides an opportunity to experience the Middle Ages as visual history.

"BLACK COMEDY"

Lights Out! This is the play in which the actors are theoretically in a totally dark room. You can see them perfectly well, of course, as they grope and stumble in the "darkness."

It's "Black Comedy," Peter Shaffer's bit of fun, playing the stage of Mercer County Community College Theatre this Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. Admission is $1.50. Reservations should be made, and the number to call is 386-1800, exts. 296 and 312. Bob Thornton and Mary Elfen Aherne play a sculptor and his dim-witted girl friend. Maryann Saville is the artist's old love. Joe DeMarie portrays a huffy father. Alan Anderson is the neighbor and Annette Rutherford plays a spinster. David Farr is the electrical repairman and Russ Garriba a wealthy art patron.

MASTER CLASS PLANNED

In Modern Dance, Dan Waggoner, modern dancer and choreographer, will teach a Master Class this Sunday at 2 p.m. at Pine Brae Country Club, Route 518, under the auspices of Dance Co-op.

The class will be at the intermediate level in technique, and some previous training is required. It is open to all dancers, including those not enrolled in Dance Co-op classes. The fee is $5, and those who wish to observe but not participate, are also welcome. There is a discount for Co-op members, and those who register for regular Co-op classes.

Dan Waggoner has been a member of the Martha Graham company, and was a soloist with the Paul Taylor company for seven years. For the past three years, he has been choreographing for his own company, which has appeared in New York, London, all over the United States, and into South America. The group will travel to India in January.

Information about the master class in detail, may be obtained at 921-8873, 921-3461 or 201-359-6889.

PRINCE

Heavy Traffic is a 76-minute X-rated successor to "Fritz the Cat." It is also a vulgar, raunchy, often compelling animated cartoon depicting in only slightly exaggerated style the heavy grit of slum life.

It's casualness of sex, blood letting and overall fatalistic approach to life will offend a lot of people. Examples: a teenage girl is putting out laundry on a tenement roof, in the excitement of luring the locals on, she accidentally falls off the roof and is killed. A hurly construction worker discovers his pickup is actually a transvestite; a thug angered over payoffs he has to make to the cops, tosses a stick of dynamite at a patrol car. It bounces off and blows up a helpless old derelict instead of Ghetto life, man.

Okay. So you stay away. But if you've ever walked down a side street in a big city and tried to avoid the smells, if you've ever sat on a subway after midnight, if you've ever waded through garbage, then you know something of what the film accepts as life. The emphasis is rightly (or wrongly, depending on one's view) upon things that "civilized" people do not care to emphasize, things that deodorants, underpants and toilet paper were invented to hide.

With its fine grotesque caricature and convincing depiction of uncaring society's slum dogs, "Heavy Traffic" may be heavy going but it is trafficking in authentic goods.

GARDEN

The Friends of Eddie Coyle, Robert Mitchum is excellent in the lead (sufficient reason alone for seeing it) in this low key, bitterly realistic study of a small-time hood caught between being an informer to the Feds and keeping in with the mob. There are no "big" scenes but rather a relentless realism about the Boston underworld that gives the film credibility and rises above any structural flaws.

Mitchum is perfect as Eddie Coyle, a cheap hood so mired in the rackets that he can't get out. He has a jail term hanging over him for some foolishness that looked like easy dough, and Federal agents are after him to turn stoolie if he wants to escape the rap. At the same time, he is hustling guns for a bunch of bank robbers. How Eddie tries desperately just to keep his head above water and stay out of jail occupies most of the film.

The emphasis is more on depressing realism than on hot action. The slangy, rather dirty dialogue is lifted almost intact from the novel of the same name by George V. Higgins. Every weary line in Mitchum's face bespeaks the lifelong defeats that Eddie has suffered. But whether a film whose central character is neither strong or complex can afford such realism is another matter. Eddie goes to his death not with a bang, not even with a whimper but with a complacency that is some what of a turnoff.

Others giving fine performances are Peter Boyle as a bartender "friend," Steven Keats as a young gun runner and Richard Jordan as a Federal agent. (R)

PLAYHOUSE

West World. This movie directed by Michael Crichton, author of "The Andromeda Strain" and "Terminal Man" stars Richard Benjamin and Yul Brynner.

Benjamin is taken by a friend to Delos, located 500 miles inside the Sahara Desert, and billed as the world's largest amusement center. West World is one of three sections, a playland for adults costing $1,000 a day, where highly sophisticated, life-like robots are programmed to fill the every desire of guests. This ideal existence gave way to terror when the robots go berserk.

West World is concerned with the effects of a society that has become over mechanized and over-programmed, of people falling in love with machines; of what may happen the day the control of the computers falters. A message film, yes, but told in a crackling good manner.

BUBINGA WOOD PIPE: At John David, Ltd., owner, John D. Herz, right, shows a customer a free-form bubinga wood pipe made by Princeton Pipes. African Bubinga wood is a new pipe material, which John David feels gives a good smoke because it is very porous.

IT'S NEW
To Us

PIPES: $4.95 TO $200

At John David, Interested in a $200 pipe? If so, you'll find it among the large selection of briar, meerschaum and even bubinga wood pipes at John David, Ltd.

John D. Herz, the owner, told us that the price of a pipe is determined by the straightness of the wood grain, the porousness of the material, as this gives a cooler smoke, and the intricacy of the carving.

The store has pipes with scroll designs, detailed faces, long and short stems. Free-forms so that every pipe is different, and some factory produced pipes in traditional shapes beginning at $4.95. Most of these models are made by Charatan, Dunhill, Savinelli, GBR & Conoy and others.

Of course, a tobaccoist is not without the tobacco to put in these pipes, and in addition to the packaged brands, John David has his own custom blends. He invites you to empty your pipe, sit in a comfortable chair, and sample one of these.

Accessories. The store also has cigars, and every imaginable smoking accessory such as humidors, pipe racks, lighters, ashtrays, etc. Some of our favorites were leather covered humidors in animal shapes of a lion, owl, alligator or monkey $22.50, and a handsome slate and teak cigarette box, ashtray and lighter, $10 to $22.50.

John David has also added a few lovely gift lines for men. There are some beautiful steer hide leather attache cases and portfolios made in Canada by Premier Leather, beginning at $50; chess sets, with medieval men or solid brass contemporary figures; wallets and umbrellas.

This spacious, well-lighted store is located at the Montgomery Shopping Center, Rt. 206, Rocky Hill. It is open Monday to Saturday from 10 until 6, with Thursday and Friday evening hours until 9 and when you stop in, ask about the pipe club.

THE MODULAR LOOK

At Viking, Modular furniture that can be arranged and re-arranged to suit the changing needs of the family is fast becoming a part of today's lifestyle. The uncluttered basic lines of these pieces blend well with most any style of furniture to create the currently popular eclectic look.

At Viking Furniture we saw the Avanti group of modular pieces. Basic to this set is an open cabinet, 23 and one-half or 30 inches wide, that comes in three different heights - low, medium and high. This cabinet can then be equipped with shelves, doors, or drawers for an endless number of arrangements.

This Avanti group is designed by an Italian, but made by Dux of Sweden, and is available in white, black or a handsome coffee brown. The shelves can be lighted and the doors are available in a see-through bronze plexiglass for a most unusual and attractive look.

Then there is a modular living room group known as the Gemini which has a square - Continued on Next Page base as its main piece, onto which an arm can be attached by steel slides to any of the four sides.

Alone, the base is an ottoman, with three arms it is a comfortable chair, and two pushed together, each with two arms, make a couch. There are many other possibilities, and these can be used individually or as units to create whatever seating arrangement you want.

Extension Table in Glass. Marty Bratman, Viking Furniture's owner, told us that they finally have an extension glass and metal table — an item he feels was a long time in coming. It seats six without the extensions and 10 with; and when they are not in use, the extensions can be hung on the wall as a buffet. This table is available with glass from one-half inch to three-quarter Belgium, and in polish aluminum, chrome or stainless steel.

This choice of materials is quite normal for Viking Furniture. Mr. Bratman told us that whatever wood item you see on the floor is probably available in teak, walnut, rosewood and oak, regardless of the sample. So depending upon your taste and budget, you have a wide choice.

There are a variety of chairs including the classic Bear chair by Hans Wegner; the Sista chair from Norway with a leather and rosewood construction, $278; Thayer Chign chairs with square chrome bases and a wide fabric choice, about $270; and a traditional low comfortable chair with well-hidden head and foot rests that appear when you lean back, $258.

Then there are some accessory items, such as a large ceiling globe designed by Louis Poulson with red and white inside the globe to create an effect that is more than just light, $359.

Lithographs by contemporary Italian artists have been reproduced on thin metal, and are ready to be hung, $60. Also all set for your walls are some beautiful metal sculptures of sailboats, planes, bikes, a railroad station and even a sidewalk cafe priced at $130.

Viking Furniture is located at 259 Nassau Street, and is open 9:30 to 5:30 Monday to Saturday with Wednesday evening hours until 9.

CLOTHES FOR FALL

At Harry Ballot's, London Fog coat for most any use, for women as well as men, for women as well as men, can be found at Harry Ballot. There are short windbreaker jackets in blue, beige or sunny yellow, $21, and a similar jacket with a zip-out lining is available in navy or tan, $40.

A regular length traditional styled trenchcoat with concealed buttons comes in tan, $70 or in a small brown and blue or grey and blue check, $65. Then for a more British look, London Fog has a tan double-breasted coat with tab shoulders and a belt, $73. All these coats have zip out linings, making them perfect for year-round use.

The women's London Fog coats included a traditional styled coat, again with the concealed buttons and a zip out lining, in a lovely blue, $70; and a belted unlined white raincoat with nice seaming and topstitching, $55.

Harris Tweeds are popular at Harry Ballot. We saw an overcoat with raglan sleeves so it will easily fit over a jacket, $125, and many sportcoats in herringbones of brown, blue/grey, or charcoal and in solid-toned tweeds such as blue or green, $85. The store also has other sportcoats, and our favorites were a camel tweed with leather buttons and a striking red and blue glen plaid, both $85.

There are some great sweaters to wear under these jackets, such as an Irish knit turtleneck by Byford of England, $35. Also, Harry Ballot has the forever popular shetland sweaters, made of an all wool hydraknit by Thorne that can be machine washed and dried. The crewnecks come in many heather tones, $20, and we also saw long-sleeved v-neck and turtleneck sweaters.

Other interesting clothes were the tartan plaid slacks, $35, and ties for your favorite sporting enthusiast featuring skiers, hunters and dogs, or golfers on a brown, green, red or blue background, $6.50.

Window Reflections

By
Lewis F. Okenwa

"Mike I was a Republican, going from tooth to tooth in the chocolate shoppe last Friday, asking the Democrats I know to join the nominating petition for Michael Morris, of Rucktown Road, West Amwell Township.

"No, I was not being cynical nor contemptuous of the Democratic process, but I was genuinely interested in seeing that Morris was able to gather enough names to earn a place on the ballot in the Primaries.

In fact, my feelings at the time were the opposite of cynicism. Because I knew most everyone in the eating place, I felt that it was my duty to introduce Morris to those in there who could vote one of their candidates in the flesh.

I've known Mike for about two or three years and have found him to be a fine, upstanding man of character and good will. But above all, I think he is a man who has high standards as a human being.

During the many times I have seen him in groups discussing issues of the day, I have seen his brows darken and his eyes flash as he took an opposite view even though he was a minority of one. I believe his standards

encompass the broad issues of social, economic, conservative values and an honesty all of which are constant and unvarying.

Morris will bring something new to the 14th Assembly District if he is nominated in the Primaries and if he is not saddled by the arid political process of the Democratic party whereby he must knuckle down to what the party bosses say or else.

I'm not saying the Democrats are the only ones who are being led by the nose. We Republicans are right in there with the Democrats as far as voting the party and not our own welfare.

To me, Morris is something new yet a man I've known quite a long time. He is a man who has not even judged before. He is receptive and, I think, careless of failure.

Probably the most eloquent thing said about him was by William Martin of Ringoes, last week when he said "Mike Morris' one trouble might be that he is too honest."

I consider that a plus but how will one honest man make out among those wolves in Trenton? He is elected?

Public Schools, YM-YWCA Discriminate

To the Editor of Town Topics: I hate, particularly as a new Princetonian, to undermine a hallowed Princeton institution, but the YMCA, as an organization which by no means practices equal opportunity for males and females, may not send home notices inviting boys and their fathers to an Indian Pow Wow, as it did this afternoon, September 21 (I will not elaborate here on the legality of having a religious organization advertise through the public schools or on the absence of fathers from many households).

If the Y, or the Little League chooses to use the public schools as a medium for the dissemination of its publicity, then it appears suspiciously like a "public accommodation," which may not practice sex discrimination, instead of like a private organization, which may discriminate to its heart's content. And since the two Y's in Princeton are acting essentially as public accommodations (they certainly are the quasi-public centers for recreation here), then the Y and the YW are going to have to get together so that their offerings do not arbitrarily exclude members of one sex or the other from certain activities while including them in others.

In the Princeton Y's a boy may not learn to make candles or to prepare for "Survival" (cooking and sewing) and a girl may not learn to operate a ham radio or to compete in chess or soccer. Three-to five-year old boys swim separately from girls, and girls learn "Creative" and "Developmental" movement apart from boys.

Older children are even instructed in guitar separately. Somehow, however, ballet, typing, and horseback riding are the province of both sexes at one Y or the other. Can't our tiny children of both sexes learn to swim together or to tumble together? Do girls at four and five really have to be taught to move differently from boys? (This does not mention the inconvenience to parent transporters who are ill-fated enough to have one of each kind who may not take the same class at the same time.)

Parents are paying handsomely for these activities and should, with their children, be able to determine in which activities they wish to indulge. If Y's were in actuality public institutions, they certainly could not get away with their current practices for long.

Princeton's Public Recreation Department's offerings will also have to be challenged. It is simply not feasible for a publicly funded agency to offer activities to one sex alone, thereby depriving all members of the other sex, however qualified, of the chance to participate in what their opposite-sexed counterparts are learning, or in something highly similar. Public institutions do not have the luxury to declare (or to let advertisers announce through them) what is good for males and what is good for females.

The public schools, the Recreation Department, and the Y's will have to bone up on the New Jersey Public Accommodations Law and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. We have some unpopular work to do in Princeton.

essence subject to defamation of character weeks before they are actually in court to determine their fate. Ironically, in this particular case, one of the three arrested hours after "confessed to the entire crime; but because of quick reporting, all three were brought to the attention of the community by publication in the previous week's Princeton Packet and TOWN TOPICS circulation. By individual verbal and written statement to both the Township and Borough police, one of the three accused confessed to both the possession and theft of the stolen article and also stated that the other two involved had absolutely no knowledge of the crime and were totally innocent.

Jeff Lowe, well known in the community for his outstanding work with the youth of the area in athletics, especially swimming, was only the owner of the vehicle in which the self-admitted guilty party was found. Mr. Lowe, undoubtedly completely innocent of any crime, was still a "victim of circumstances" because of a press release prior to the actual judgment. It seems in this incident that one is guilty before proven guilty because of the press release.

I have known Jeff Lowe for many years and of the fine work he has done with the youngsters of our community. It is truly unfortunate this type of press-oriented defamation must occur to anyone.

Nature Lovers Wanted

To the Editor of Town Topics: Last year I was in a program called "Action in Nature." This year at the YWCA they are going to have it again. It is for 9-14 year old girls. In Action in Nature, you do mostly outside things such as camping, climbing, backpacking, hiking, bicycling, canoeing, swimming, etc.

Unfortunately there aren't enough girls this year. So I hope you or your daughter sign up. I hope to see you there.

Flight Two to Bow Out.

To the Editor of Town Topics: We, the Trustees of Flight Two, have been forced by lack of funds to close down the program of Flight Two as of October 3.

Flight Two emerged two years ago in response to an expressed need for community activities initiated by youth. Started by the Council of Community Services, Flight Two has been supported by grants from the Youth Fund, the Borough and Township, and HEW as well as many individual contributors. Hundreds of teenage youth have been involved in organizing and attending concerts, dances, workshops, and other events sponsored by Flight Two.

We wish to express our thanks to all who have supported Flight Two by their participation and contributions of money and services.

Dr. Sussman Supported.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Three cheers for Dr. Oscar Sussman. His outspoken exposure of horrendous filth in the kitchens of New Jersey Institutions has brought attention to a condition that should never have existed in the first place.

How inappropriate for the Governor and his chieftains to focus on Dr. Sussman's manner of calling attention to this situation! Rather, they should be supporting him to the hilt by insisting that the doors of the kitchens remain closed until the situation is rectified.

Regardless of how Dr. Sussman is treated by the political wheelers and dealers, it is apparent that he has done a valuable service; he has brought to public attention a matter long swept under the rug. Thanks, Dr. Sussman.

Premature Judgment.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In reference to your article concerning the apprehension by Borough and Township police of three people arrested for the theft of a tape recorder on Monday, September 17, I find it most unfortunate to learn that, again, arrested but not yet guilty people, are in-

REPUBLICANS EXAMINE LANDMARK: Borough Council should "get off dead center and behind local citizens and groups to stimulate the historic conscience of Princeton," declare the two Republican Borough Council candidates, Margaret Penick and Robert Pals. Examining the sign outside "Morven," they comment on demolition of "two historic buildings on Stockton Street . . . with no public outcry or debate."

open its Bainbridge House headquarters on a new schedule of hours this fall, and volunteers are needed and invited to serve as hostesses, guides and research workers in the 18th-century building.

Hours will be Tuesdays through Saturdays, 10 to 4 Sundays 2-4. The library will be open Tuesdays through Fridays from 10 until 1. Bainbridge House is closed Mondays.

Training sessions for volunteers will be held Tuesdays, October 2, October 9 and October 16 at 8 p.m. in Bainbridge House which is on Nassau Street next to the Garden Theatre.

The first session will explain Bainbridge House and its role in the community, outlining the work of volunteers in setting up exhibits, helping with research and assisting at social events.

At the second meeting, volunteers will learn the history of the House and its former occupants and will examine the building's architecture. The principles used in restoring the house will be explained and the furnishings will be described.

The final session will be devoted to the Hudibras Tavern. Dig near Firestone Library across from Bainbridge House. Volunteers will learn the results and conclusions of the Hudibras project and will, if it can be arranged, hear a talk on 18-19th century medical practice. The house was once used by a doctor.

High School Meeting

Mark Wednesday, October 17, on your calendar.
That's the night (8 p.m.)
you're invited to sit down in the Princeton High auditorium and talk about the high school building with members of the school board.

Four options will be up for discussion: build a new school, do a $4.5 million alteration job, do a $3.4 million alteration job, or renovate for a scant million.

Decisions must be made by the school board within the next few months. At the October 17 meeting, the options will be explained in detail and the audience asked to comment. Other public meetings will be held after this one.

For Second Straight Year.
For the second straight year
Princeton University has balanced its budget, with a slight surplus, President William G.
Bowen has announced.

A surplus of $20,000 was registered in a budget of more than $86 million for the year ending last June 30, President Bowen reported. During the previous fiscal year a surplus of $30,000 was achieved in a budget of about $79 million.
This followed two years during which the University's budgets registered deficits totaling $2.5 million.

President Bowen called the current surplus "modest" and made the point that in budgets of this magnitude swings of several hundred thousands of dollars are not unusual.

For the current year President Bowen cautioned that projections are difficult because "inflationary cost increases — especially for food and fuel — will be felt more severely than last year." On the other hand, he said he was
"somewhat more optimistic" than last year about the prospects for federal support funds. "On balance," he added, "it does seem that it will be appreciably more difficult

MAN VS. COURT

Borough Court Wins. Albert Leftwich, 20, Main Street, Lawrenceville, and the law do not get along.

Leftwich was in Borough court last Wednesday to answer a previous charge of assault and battery stemming from an incident the week before at Little Hall on the University campus. He was informed in court that he would be served with additional charges from University Security.

He allegedly began to question bail and Borough charity Judge Philip Carhman. Told he would have to see about posting bail, he announced that "he was not going to see anybody about anything," and attempted to leave the courtroom.

Judge Carhman summoned the court officer, Ptl. Gerald Patterson. Leftwich reportedly tried to brush past the officer. When he was restrained, he allegedly became violent, resisted arrest and had to be subdued by Ptl. Patterson and Ptl. Kerry Klink and returned to his cell in Borough Jail.

As a result, two more charges were added to his list: resisting arrest and disturbing and interfering with an assembly. He was later released when he was able to pay the $250 bail on the two charges.

STAR GAZERS INVITED

To Peyton Hall. The Princeton University Observatory will hold an open house Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Peyton Hall, adjacent to Palmer Stadium on Ivy Lane. The public will hear an illustrated, non-technical lecture and also be invited to view the sky through the 4 1/2 and 9-inch telescopes atop Peyton Hall. The lecture begins at 8 p.m.

LOOKING TOWARD OCTOBER 13: A barrel motif adds country flavor to Rocky Hill's Bid 'n Buy fall auction and fair set for Saturday, October 13. Peter Hayden, Robert Eveleigh, Tany Opperman, David and Philip Hayden are ready to help get the signs staked and pasted.

Five other open houses are scheduled later in the academic year. Groups wishing special accommodations should write V. Richard Boscarino, administrative officer of the Observatory.

YW BEGINS PROGRAM

For High School Girls. The Princeton YWCA is initiating a program entitled Community Outreach involving high school age girls in the community.

The Y is looking for people to serve on the steering committee for this program. The steering committee will consist of high school girls representing all high schools in the area, and will be in charge of organizing and beginning the program. The goal of the program is to seek volunteer opportunities for high school students.

The people who drive Porsches feel the same as the people who make them: there is no other car.

Because performance and engineering come first.

Our concept is that of evolutionary change. Which is why each year the improvements we make may seem subtle to the uneducated eye. But to us they are the milestones along the way to our ultimate goal, the perfect car.

The 1973 Porsche 911 puts us a year closer.

It is a car both exhilarating to drive and luxurious to own.

It is the words of one Porsche owner, "The Porsche Experience."

The experience begins the moment you enter the car and sink into the contours of the orthopedic bucket seats. You are surrounded by opulence found only in a true GT car.

All controls are functional and within easy sight and reach. Which is understandable, since they were engineered.

"That's IT"

And expected, since it is a Porsche.

Porsche handling is unlike that of any other car. It is quick, precise and superb. To drive a Porsche is to feel that driver and car are one and the same. You "think" of where you want the car to go.

Part of this experience is due to the 911's rear-engine design. A design we've stood by and steadily improved over the past 25 years.

The other part is the legendary Porsche engineering that places the Porsche in a class of its own in the automotive world.

This kind of engineering demands a total commitment to the idea. Dr. Ferdinand Porsche had nearly 75 years ago. That a man should be able to transport himself along the road in an exquisite piece of machinery with the best possible combination of comfort and control.

It is an idea that does not allow one to change something for sake of cost or caprice, but only for sake of improvement.

That is it.

In the 1930's a famous philosopher, Sir Charles Sherrington, wrote these words: "Suppose a wound sever a nerve of my arm . . . At once after the injury the nerve fibers start to regrow from their cut points even far up the arm. For eighty years and more, my nerve fibers have given no sign of growth. Yet, after this wound, each fiber, whether motor or sensory, would start again to grow stretching out toward its old goal in muscle or skin." It is words like these, true as they are, that make us realize how wonderful the human body is.

NEW FEE STRUCTURE

For Paddle Tennis Courts. In an attempt to offer more to the paddle tennis player, the Recreation Board has announced a new fee structure that also includes the younger player.

A new season family rate (12 and over) costs $40; husband and wife, $25; and individual, $15. Senior citizens 62 and over can play free.

Eliminated have been last year's non-resident league and league only fees of $10 and $12.50. Non-residents who played in a league last year will be given the opportunity to play as a non-resident on a non-resident fee schedule of $80 family, $50 husband and wife and $30 individual.

Non-residents who fail to take advantage of the offer, will be phased out, commented Recreation Director R. Donald Barr.

Season ticket fees allow the holder to reserve a court during prime time up to a 1½-hour block.

There is still free time available on the four courts, primarily between 12:30 and 5 p.m. on weekdays. Essentially, the board is attempting to phase out the non-resident player to accommodate increase use of the courts by Princeton residents.

Mr. Barr also reported that there has been a problem of the paint lifting on the two new courts built last year. The builder, Sports Marketing, he said, has promised to start repainting the courts by September 27, finishing by October 15.

The playing surface of the two original courts is in fine condition, Mr. Barr said.

Ice Skating Unchanged. Mr. Barr announced that ice skating on Lake Carnegie probably would be conducted the same as last winter with one authorized safe skating area between the Washington and Harrison Street bridges. The cost of providing supervisors will be shared again equally among the Borough, Township and Princeton University, which owns the lake. There were only three days of skating on the lake last winter.

Mr. Barr also revealed that the Recreation Board has received an unsolicited and unrestricted gift of $800 from Sibson & Company of Princeton which he said would be used to provide shirts and uniforms for the Dillon Basketball program.

Board chairman William Armiger, after first commenting on how the board appreciated "this generous gift", described it as a dramatic way to re-awaken interest in the forming of a Friends of Princeton Recreation group—something the board has hoped will materialize as a vehicle for possible additional contributions.

"They've given us more than money. They've given us a clue out of a real dilemma—how to obtain the money to support all our programs in the face of an austere budget."

Pool Lights — When? From the audience, Stuart Ellersheim, 38 Terhune Road, raised again an issue that refuses to die: when will the board install lights for night swimming at the Community Park Pool complex.

Mr. Barr traced the history of the board's involvement with outdoor lights. Fundamentally, he said, after careful review, the board felt that the estimated cost of $25,000 was too high in terms of the number of people who would benefit. "We felt other things had a higher priority," he said.

Topics Of The Town

Mr. Ellerstein listened to a recital of other reasons which the board told him were a factor in its decision. But he refused to be convinced. "Would a petition help?" he asked.

Finally, after Mr. Armiger told him that there never had been complete unanimity by the board on the question of lights, the board promised to discuss it again in public session at its November meeting. Those who would like to see lights at the pool (or lights at the tennis courts or ballfields) should plan to attend.

CLASSES OFFERED

By Rocky Hill Group. The Rocky Hill Community Group has announced the following classes available for enrollment immediately.

Judo classes, ages 7-12, will be held on Wednesday nights, 5-6 p.m. for beginners and advanced beginners, and 6-7 for advanced students, under the instruction of Mr. Bram Oort (924-1324 after 7 p.m.) This class will start October 3 and continue for 10 weeks.

Creative arts and crafts will be taught by Zenna Broome on Saturdays, 10-11:30 a.m. for boys and girls ages 5 to 8. The first class will be October 20; it will continue for eight weeks.

Two guitar classes will be taught by Barbara Smith (921-7883 after 5 p.m.) on Thursday evenings: 7-7:45 for beginners; and 7:45-8:30 for intermediate players. Both classes are available for people age 10 and older. The first class will be October 11 and it will run for eight weeks.

Bridge lessons with Howard Waxwood will be offered on Wednesdays. A class of expert coaching for players with experience at 12:30-2:30, and a class for beginners only from 8 to 10 p.m. This class will start October 17 and will continue for 10 weeks.

A Basic Bishop sewing class is offered by Joan Higgins (466-2790). Three class projects will be completed; students should be able to use a sewing machine. This class will be held on Tuesdays, from 9:30 to 12 noon, will start October 16 and continue for eight weeks.

Instruction in food decoration will be given by Dorothy Meggitt (921-2179) on Wednesdays, at two different times—one 9:30-11:30 a.m. and the second from 8-10 p.m. The first class will be October 17; there will be five weeks of classes.

For more information about these classes and the fees please call the instructor if their number is included after their name, or Dorothy Meggitt (921-2179), who is in charge of registration and scheduling. There is a limited number of openings in all the classes, so act quickly to be assured of a place. There is an additional registration fee for non-members of the Rocky Hill Community Group.

ACTION LINE INSTALLED

At Carrier Clinic. The Alcohol Recovery Unit of the Carrier Clinic in Belle Mead now provides a confidential telephone "action line referral service" for troubled people. The number is 201-359-1000.

A trained counselor with daily psychiatric supervision will answer the phone and provide referral recommendations. Referrals will be accepted from company medical departments, personnel departments, unions, supervisors, friends, family, relatives or the patients themselves.

The Carrier Clinic hopes that it can work closely with other community agencies and private health and social services to maintain follow-up contact with all patients reached through the action line. In the case of an alcohol-dependent person, for example, the follow-up period would last about a year after the initial phone call.

In addition to alcohol problems the clinic will work with people bothered by legal, family, marital, financial, medical, emotional or drug problems.

RECREATION INCOME UP

Over Last Year. Through mid-September, the Princeton Recreation Department has collected $71,222, more than $1700 over the $69,506 it took in for all of 1972.

Nearly all of the revenue is income from the pool and tennis courts. Still to come this year is the income from the four paddle tennis courts (See elsewhere in this issue for the new fee structure). Total estimated income for 1973 will be around $74,000.

This means, commented Recreation Director R. Donald Barr, that "we made our anticipated revenue for the seventh year in a row." The board has a moral obligation to meet the yearly operating costs of the pool and tennis complex.

Mr. Barr reported the pools were open 98 days this year, including an extra week at the end of the season to accommodate swimmers during the heat wave, plus three free swim days. The nine fast-dry tennis courts will remain open through October; the six hard surface courts are open year-round.

2 TOURS ARE SCHEDULED

For Dutch Neck School. The Dutch Neck Project Task Force, consisting of 16 community members, 11 teachers, four school board members, and two administrators of the West Windsor-Plainsboro School District is inviting members of the community to join them in touring the Dutch Neck elementary school.

Tours will be held on October 1 and 2, at 8 p.m., and the need to renovate the school discussed.

Since its inception last

June, the task force has been working with Frank Miller, architect, of Uniplan of Princeton to assess the need for renovation and addition to the Dutch Neck facility to meet the expanding student population.

Pupil enrollment projections indicated that the capacity of the district's present elementary school facilities will be reached by 1975 and additional classrooms will be needed to maintain a desirable pupil-teacher ratio. In addition, the inadequate facilities in the cafeteria and library have been concerns for several years.

A feasibility study conducted by Mr. Miller showed that the building, although started in 1912, is structurally sound and able to be expanded. The Task Force, in considering these and other factors, concurred in the decision to renovate rather than incur the additional expense of new construction.

During the Task Force's eight summer meetings, Mr. Miller has presented six preliminary schematic drawings to the group, incorporating various suggestions and reactions from them.

In addition to participating in the tours, the community is urged to contact members of the Task Force to learn further details of the plans and give their comments.

- You earn the highest interest the government allows us to offer (and we were the first to increase our rates when Federal regulations changed).
- Your interest is compounded every single day! Interest earned today earns more interest tomorrow.

ART In Princeton

EXHIBIT TO OPEN

On Spanish Painter. The first exhibition in the United States devoted to the 17th-century Spanish painter Josep de Ribera will open at The Art Museum, Princeton University, October 13.

The 35 drawings and imp-prints of all 16 of Ribera's prints as well as several larger copies will comprise the first monographic exhibition of prints and drawings by a Spanish Baroque artist.

The drawings and prints in the exhibition have been selected from public and private collections in England,
France, Spain, Italy, West Germany, The Netherlands and the United States.

"Josep de Ribera: Prints and Drawings" has been organized by Professor Jonathan Brown, now Acting Director, Institute of Fine Arts, New York University and formerly of the Princeton faculty. He has written the 200 page catalogue to accompany the exhibition containing over 150 illustrations, a complete catalogue raisonne of all the prints by and attributed to Ribera, plus reproductions of the 35 drawings in the exhibition, many published for the first time.

Josep de Ribera (1591-1652) was born in the town of Jativa in the Spanish province of Valencia. Almost nothing is known of his early life and training, which is assumed to have occurred in Valencia. At an unknown date, perhaps around 1610-13, he went to Italy. After a period of time spent in the north, he settled in Rome, where he was recorded in a census of 1615. In the following year, he moved to Naples, then a possession of the Spanish crown, and there he spent the rest of his life as a successful and much imitated painter.

Ribera is known today primarily as a painter who worked in a naturalist style and as a specialist in gruesome martyrdoms and withered penitent saints—a conception that has reduced his many faceted personality to a single dimension. It is the aim of the exhibition to help establish the full measure of his greatness by revealing his achievements in the graphic media of etching and drawing.

Ribera's interest in etching was short lived, all but three of his sixteen prints were made between 1620 and 1624. In that period, he made significant progress in exploiting the inherent linear vitality of the medium and created a body of work that influenced artists in Italy and Spain throughout the seventeenth century.

The exhibition will close on November 18 at the Art Museum.

FALL COURSES SET

By Art Association. The Princeton Art Association has announced its schedule of courses for the fall session, promising a creative experience for all residents regardless of age or previous experience.

Several new artists - Instructors have joined the faculty of the PAA including George Greene, Elizabeth
Monath, I-Han Chiang, Elsie Hollander and Bruce Rigby.
Mr. Greene, a graduate of Harvard and the Art Student's League whose work hangs in the Guggenheim Museum, will teach "Elements of Design" on Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

The course will emphasize art as a visual language and is open to both beginners and advanced students.

Elizabeth Monath, the PAA's creative exhibition chairman, will present "Relief Printing in Color" on Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Mrs. Monath utilizes an unorthodox approach to surface printing using ancient printing methods to express contemporary moods. Mrs.
Monath is a graduate of the Academy of Fine and Applied Arts in Vienna and studied in Paris with Leger.

"Chinese Watercolor" will be taught on Thursday afternoon from 12:30 to 2:30
by I-Han Chian, who also has taught at Princeton University and the Adult School.
"Pottery for Beginners" will be taught by Elsie Hollander at her studio in South Brunswick—students will learn both the wheel and hand-building techniques.
Mrs. Hollander is a member of the American Craft-man's Council.

On Thursday evening from 7:30 to 10:30, Bruce Rigby, a member of the art faculty at Trenton State College will teach "Oil Painting and Mixed Media." Mr. Rigby has an MS and an MFA in painting and drawing from Northern Illinois University and has received many prizes and purchases awards.

His work is in the National Collection in Washington, D.C. and recently, at the Hunterdon Art Center's 20th Annual Exhibition, he was one of seven artists invited to participate. Mr. Rigby will work with both traditional and experimental approaches to painting—he emphasizes the individual needs of the student will be met.

For young people, Edith Kogan, well-known for her work with children at the Public Library, will teach a "Creative Workshop" on Monday from 3:45 to 5:15
for ages 7-11. Mrs. Kogan stresses that this will be a small, relaxed group giving children a chance to express themselves using paint, collage and three dimensional structures.

Joan Needham will again teach her popular "Print-making" for ages 11 & up on Tuesday from 3:40 to 5:40. Students learn basic printing techniques—and the use of a printing press.

Returning to the PAA will be Rex Ashlock, for many years an instructor at the Museum of Modern Art, on

FROM GUATEMALA . . .

To Squibb. Antique and modern objets d'art from Guatemala will be shown at Squibb Gallery starting this Sunday, and continuing through Friday, October 19. Gallery hours for the special Sunday opening are 1 to 5 p.m.

The exhibition includes "huipiles" — textiles unique to Guatemalan Indians — pottery and jade from archaeological finds and vivid modern paintings by Guatemalan artist Rodolfo Mishaan. The archeological artifacts are on loan from the Edward H. Merrin Gallery in Manhattan.

Huipiles (pronounced as wee-pee-lays, or singular: wee-peel) are colorful textiles, individually crafted over months with a hand loom, and worn as blouses by the Maya-Quiche Indian women. They are actually a folded rectangle of cloth, usually cotton, made up of one, two or three panels sewn together with an opening in the middle for the head.

The outstanding feature of these weavings is the embroidery, whose ancestry can be traced to pre-Colombian times. Symbolic representations of fire, the sun, the Quetzal, animals and flowers have ethnic and religious significance to the Indians, and no two representations are exactly the same.

Jade, Stone, Paintings. Also in the exhibition are ancient polychrome bowls, jade pectorals, and ceremonial stone objects, dating from 300 A.D. They are a testimony to the extraordinary development of Mayan culture thousands of years ago by ancestors of today's Guatemalans.

Completing the exhibit will be the large, colorful abstract paintings of Rodolfo Mishaan, Guatemalan-born artist known for his paintings in gold, silver and platinum leaf. His bold works echo the vibrant colors of the huipiles and portray the legend and history of Guatemala. Squibb Gallery is located on the Princeton-Lawrenceville Road (Route 206) just south of Princeton. It is open to the public Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

BUY JAPANESE

Crafts to Be Shown. An exhibition and sale of 18th and 19th century Japanese crafts will be held for two weeks starting Saturday, October 6, at "The Barn" on Fair Acres Farm, Route 27, Kingston.

The Craftsmen's Guild of Japan will offer antique campaign furniture, Zen calligraphy from Tanada-san, woven animals from Aoki-san, Kokeshi dolls and wooden combs.

Tansu chests in solid woods such as Chinese fig, Japanese cryptomeria and zelkova, with dowel pegging, box-joint construction and hand-forged iron hardware, will also be available in the Guild collection. Spokesmen for the Guild say that the organization is the only source in this part of the United States for original condition, unrestored Japanese "campaign" furniture.

In addition to items listed above, the Guild will offer 12 pieces of Chinese Ming Dynasty blue and white Swatow ware dating from the Hsuan-te era — 1426 — kilns of Kwantung Province. Prices for these pieces will begin at $70.

Shoppers and browsers are invited to share a cup of Japanese green tea with T. S. Heineken, advisor to the Guild, between October 6 and 21.

CRAFTS SHOW PLANNED

This is the first outdoor exhibition by the Woosamonsa Group which for many years has held its annual show in the Pennington Grange Building featuring mainly area artists & craftsman.

At this year's open show all artists and craftsman are invited to present their work. The exhibit will be mounted on the outside walls of the attractive row of shops at Pennytown.

Non-members of the Woosamonsa Group will pay $1 per painting with a maximum fee of $5 for any number of paintings beyond five. The craft fee will be 50 cents for each work with a maximum of $3 for an unlimited number of pieces. Exhibitors will be charged a commission of 10 percent on the price of work sold at the show. Rain dates for the show will be October 6 & 7.

Further information may be obtained by calling, 737-3207 or 466-1509.

CERAMICS ON DISPLAY

At Loft Gallery. The Loft Art Gallery, 306 Alexander Street, is showing the ceramic work of Yvonne Aronson, who works with stoneware clay.

The wheel-thrown and hand-belt pieces are fired in her gas kiln. Much of the character of the clay and glazes is achieved through the high temperature and reduction atmosphere of the firing.

Included in her display are canisters for food storage and casseroles for oven and/or buffet use. There is no lead in the stoneware, making it safe for foods.

Mrs. Aronson has studied ceramics at Greenwich Pottery in New York. Her work has been influenced by her apprenticeship as studio helper to Toshiko Takaezu.

"Food, clothing, medical bills—you name it, today it costs more than ever. We mean to keep local government costs in line and keep the future affordable in the Township."

—Ev Garretson and Sandy Reynolds.

Government costs money. No argument there. But once you're in government, it's all too easy to let that become an excuse for shrugging off concern about overspending.

Particularly when it is, after all, someone else's money. The taxpayer's — yours. "Sorry, fella, but government does cost money, you know."

We know. Money has to be spent if we're to have the kind of future we all want for this very special place called Princeton.

But in spending that money, we mean never to forget where it came from — your pocketbook, your family budget. And how it got there to begin with — by hard work; it doesn't come easy.

We mean to make it a great future for all of us — but one we can all afford.

Brought to you
By John Bernard

Did you ever stop to think about this oddity in pro football... The men who lead pro football in scoring every year hardly ever handle the football themselves... The leading scorers the last few years have all been — not runners or pass receivers anymore — but the field goal kickers who rarely get a football in their hands.

One of the unusual addities in sports is that the only time the great horse Man O' War never lost a race, he was beaten by a horse named, oddly enough, Upset!... Man O' War finished first in every race in his career except for a race at Saratoga in 1919 when he finished second to Upset.

Do you know where and when Hank Aaron hit the first home run of his major league career?... It came on April 23, 1954 in St. Louis, off pitcher Vic Raschi.

I bet that you didn't know... that people over 65 should consult with us about our $100,000 catastrophe accident and sickness insurance policy which is now available without any evidence of insurability. It is written over Medicare.

Rutgers Tough Foe for Tigers' Football Opener

Launching both a new season and a new coach, Princeton University will open its football schedule Saturday against Rutgers, one of the three opponents it managed to defeat during its traumatic trip to the lower levels a year ago. In keeping with the Tigers' new policy on home games, the contest will start at 1:30.

As successor to Jake McCandless, Bob Casciola will seek to right the tailspin that Princeton football has been experiencing for the past three seasons, when the Orange and Black's success in the sport was represented by a mere 13 victories in 27 games—and only eight triumphs in 21 Ivy League contests.

Given a dry day, repetition of last year's 7-6 score between the two traditional rivals is wholly unlikely. The reason for such prognosis is based solely on the character of Princeton's current team in comparison to last fall's: a markedly better backfield will operate behind a capable line, with higher mean far greater potential on the ground, but the opposing defense will be deeper in greater respect for the Tigers' passing game. Wagonseller and Snickenberger will open as the pair of running backs, with senior Romero Perkins—at 210 pounds very much the biggest of the hall carriers—and sophomore Steve Buckley the pair in immediate reserve. Buckley's showing this fall has been good enough to rank him ahead of senior Howard Baetjer, who averaged 41 yards a year ago.

Kerry Brown, the flanker equipped with a fine pair of hands that have been instrumental in his earning the career record of 31 passes caught, ranks as the leading receiver and will give Princeton unusual ability in this department with split end Bill Skinner and tight end Bob Harding. A believer in a solid running game, Casciola may well find in his first year at his alma mater that a couple of good passing quarterbacks and a standout receiving corps will be the Tigers' best weapon in 1973.

While Captain Bill Cronin, the 235 lb right guard, earns Casciola's praise as an offensive lineman as good as any in the Ivy League, there is some concern over the ability of the rest of the interior line. The graduated tackles, Jeff Bart and All-Ivy Bill Brown, have been particularly hard to replace.

Defensively, Princeton is weakest at both ends, where the 1972 captain, Mike Kincaid, and Steve Hausmann took unusually high standards of ability with them. One of the starting assignments—on the left side—will go to the only sophomore among the 22 starters Saturday. At 6-4, 190, Aaron Satterthwaite has the build and the potential to hold the job, but experience will take considerable time. Senior Jim Shaw, Hausmann's replacement last year, is the starter at right end.

QUICK LOOK AT RUTGERS

OFFENSE: Quarterbacking not established but overall ability is superior to last year's at start of season.

DEFENSE: Like Princeton's, thin in reserve strength. Game will hinge on whether Tiger offense can overmatch it.

CHIEF ASSET: Fine running of full back Jim Jennings, plus confidence built of six-game winning streak over two seasons.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Extent to which untested quarterbacks can deliver.

TYPE OF ATTACK: Features play-action and option passes.

The Tigers have better than average strength at both tackles—this despite the loss of Carl Barisich, who survived the cut to 40 men with the Cleveland Browns. Ken Beytin and Tom Schalech, who average around 245, 6-4, will make it tough to run through the middle against Princeton.

First line ability elsewhere is highly satisfactory. The veteran Tony Riposta will lead the trio of linebackers which includes the very capable Tom

Martin, a junior letterman, and classmate Rich Ziegler, a Hun School alumnus who has impressed in the early going. The deep secondary quartet consists of four more varsity holdovers, all well respected by the Princeton coaching staff. Glen Pratt and Blair Magaziner are the cornerbacks; the smallest and one of the fastest men on the squad, Gary Marshall, and Jim Stephens are the safeties. All but Pratt are lettermen.

Reserve Depth Thin. Fortunately for the Tigers, the squad is in topflight condition, because Casciola will not have the ability to substitute freely as long as the outcome remains in doubt. Behind the starters on offense, for example, are six sophomores on the line, a number without precedent here in many years.

Of the 11 players second on the depth chart on defense, not one is a letterman. All will learn as they go, but it is a deficiency in experience that may create real problems in the mid-October stretch against veteran teams from Cornell, Colgate and Pennsylvania.

Sports In Princeton

Bruce Hennemuth will handle the punting for Princeton, and after a good sophomore year in charge of this vital task, can be expected to do it well. A pair of first-year men, Stuart Morrison and Mark Skof, will take care of the place kicking and belief is they already have the ability to match all but the most skilled of their opposite numbers this fall.

RUTGERS RUNS WELL

J. J. Jennings a Fine Back. A 212-lb. senior who figures to hold every Rutgers record for yards gained rushing by the time the season ends is the key to the Scarlet's offense. Jim "J. J." Jennings, who carried for 1,262 yards last fall, is listed by the State University as its best bet for All-American honors in more than a decade.

In Rutgers' 31-13 victory over Lehigh Saturday, Jennings gained 116 yards, carrying as many as 36 times, three of them for touchdowns. Despite the one-man-gang aspects of such an offense, it will be greatly to the credit of the rebuilding Tiger defense if he does not do as well here.

Because of a leg injury to senior Gary Smolyn, the senior quarterback who had been expected to start, the job went to an untried junior, Steve Havran. The latter did extremely well, completing 6 for 11, two for TDs. Since Smolyn played defense last fall after a sophomore year as a quarterback, Havran might be Coach Frank Burns' choice

Ivy League Forecast

Princeton over Rutgers. Tiger offense to do the trick.
Yale over Connecticut. Elis one of Ivy's best.
Bucknell over Columbia. Lions might go 0 for 9.
Dartmouth over New Hampshire. Green can run well.
Cornell over Colgate. This may be great year for Red.
Penn over Lafayette. No problem for Quakers.
Massachusetts over Harvard. Fourth game for UMass this season.
Brown over Rhode Island. A better year ahead for Bruins.

against Princeton.

The Rutgers offensive line averages 225 and has good experience. The defense is green in spots, and therein lies Princeton's hope.

It should be a far more interesting game than last year's slow-motion affair, one in which the losing team could post close to 20 points and still taste defeat. In the belief that the Princeton running backs can match Jennings' heroics, and the Tigers will have the edge in quarterbacking, the estimate here is that Bob Casciola will begin his Princeton coaching career with a victory.

PEDDIE HERE SATURDAY

For Hun Home Grid Opener. The Hun School football team, which lost its first game, 18-12, at Newark Academy last week, will open its home schedule Saturday when it plays host to Peddie. Kickoff is 2 p.m.

"They'll be tough," said Hun coach Dave Leete of Peddie. "They're big; they have a few post grads in their lineup."

Peddie won its opener Saturday against Williamson Trade, 14-9, in Media, Pa., when it scored on a seven-yard run with four and a half minutes left to play. Peddie topped Hun last season, 26-12.

Trailing 12-0 at the half as a result of a pair of first period touchdowns by Newark Academy, Hun scored its first TD in the third period when sophomore Terry McEwen of Princeton capped a drive with a 22-yard run.

Hun's defense broke down in the ensuing kickoff, however, as Newark's Jim Seymour galloped 78 yards to paydirt. That was one of the four or five mistakes singled out by Leete which he said had hurt. "We outplayed them overall."

In the final period, Hun engineered an 80-yard drive, quarterback Kevin Dwyer bucking over from the one for the score. In passing, Dwyer was 4-for-12 and gained 29 yards in five carries. McEwen gained 72 yards in a dozen carries, while the other Hun halfback, Bob McHugh, picked up 60 yards in 11 carries. Hun had a big margin in rushing over the home team, moving 185 yards on the ground to 99 for Newark.

"I think definitely we would have been on the upper side if we hadn't made those few errors," Leete commented. "If we can eliminate the mistakes, I feel optimistic about the next seven games."

VICTORS ON 20TH GREEN

In Springdale Golf. Bob Cronin and Jim Schwartz won the annual Governors' Cup tournament Saturday at Springdale Golf Club, the match going two extra holes.

The losing team in the final consisted of Jack Futerer and John Budd.

After 16 holes, the two teams were tied, with Futerer and Budd winning the 17th but Cronin saving the eventual victory with a 5 on the 18th which gave him a par four, based on his handicap. Cronin had a chance to win on the first extra hole, but three-putted, the tie sending the match to the 20th green. There, Cronin won the 179-yard hole with a par three.

Two Tie in Seniors. Low gross scores of 180 created a tie for the Seniors' title between Thomas James and Karl Pettit, Jr. Both turned in cards of 160 for 36 holes of medal play Saturday and Sunday, and will settle the eventual winner in a playoff.

Roland Smith, whose gross 78 on Saturday broke his personal record, won the low net for the 55-59 age bracket with 164-24-140. Winner in the 60-64 bracket was Joe Masick at 163-24-139.

Kline Fulmer had a 36 hole gross of 177, with his 16 handicap paring his net to 145, best in the 65-69 bracket. B. E. Bergesen carded a 195 gross and 149 net to win the 70-74 competition.

PHS Looks to Ewing after Thumping Hamilton

Scoring the first two times it got its hands on the ball, marching 77 and 61 yards, the Princeton High School football offense got the job done and then some against Hamilton Saturday, but the game ball belongs to the defense.

There were virtually as many standouts as there were players on Jim Beachell's defensive unit, which stopped Hamilton at every turn. The Hornets, carrying an 11 game win string into the contest, never threatened. In the 4th period when PHS fumbled back to back, coughing up the ball on its 24 and 26 yard line, it pushed the visitors back. The final score, a big opening win for the Little Tigers was, 30-0.

Hamilton, fielding an inexperienced team, had no standout carriers. Ewing, Princeton's next opponent Saturday, does. He is Tom Kuzniacki, a 6-2, 185 pound fullback for the Blue Devils who scored three times on runs of five, seven and six yards as Ewing romped past St. Anthony, 34-7, in its first game. In all, Kuzniacki rushed for 115 yards in 22 carries, accounting for 84 of his team's 110 yards in the first half.

Whether Princeton will be able to stop Ewing's one man offense and whether the Blue Devils can defend against the passing of Princeton's John Mooney will be answered Saturday at 11 on the Ewing gridiron.

PHS coach Dick Wood agreed that Ewing moved the ball well against St. Anthony and he predicted the Blue Devils will be a much stronger team than Hamilton. Ewing coach Bruce Martz went a step further, labeling Princeton its "biggest test." Princeton is probably the best team we'll face this year," he said.

Mooney to Warfield. With Mooney doing the throwing and Mike Diamond calling the plays, PHS took the opening and PHS led a Hamilton team kickoff before a good-sized crowd and drove 77 yards in nine plays. The big play was a 44-yard pass to Rich Warfield that carried to the five. One play later, Mooney bucked over, Steve Tomlinson kicked the first of four extra points for the first time in five years. After Hamilton failed to move, PHS started again, this time taking five plays to go 61 yards. Again, a Mooney pass was the decisive weapon. He hit Diamond cutting across the middle and the receiver raced down the sideline to score with 3:58 still to go in the first period. The play covered 53 yards.

NEW PHS ATHLETIC DIRECTOR: Frank Francisco, a member of the PHS coaching staff for the past eight years, has been named Athletic Director at Princeton High. He succeeds Norman Van Arsdalen, who has taken on new administrative duties. A graduate of Dover High School and Trenton State College, Francisco is an assistant to PHS football coach Dick Wood, working with the receivers.

Dan Poling tackled scrambling Hornet quarterback Lane Upshaw in the end zone early in the second period for a two-point safety and Mooney connected again for his ninth completion to Warfield on a 25-yard TD pass with 26 seconds left in the half.

At that the offense rested its case, 23-0. In the second half, the defense took over. Defensive back Steve Kelp scored the only points in the second half when he intercepted a Hamilton pass around his own 30, cut to his right and ran it into the end zone. Less than two minutes remained in the game.

Hornets Unable to Capitalize: PHS committed only two mistakes, both in the final period. Pete Watson taking over for the slightly injured Mooney fumbled the snap and Hamilton recovered on the PHS 24. Four plays later, Hamilton had failed to gain a single yard.

On the very next play, Ron Campbell dropped a handoff and the visitors had another crack at getting on the board. Alex Kinnam and Keith Rounell stopped two plays for no gain. Poling and Jeff Benfeler led the rush that stopped Hamilton's next effort. On fourth down, Randall threw Upshaw back to the 48 for a big loss. It had been a long time since a PHS team was hit by the one that had brought Hamilton to a standstill.

We finally got a team that understands what they're doing," said defensive coach Tim Brachell. "We haven't used a tenth of the plays we have to add."

Throughout the game, Brachell paced the sidelines, calling out his alignments. Bobby Zimmerman gave the call from the backfield. It didn't take long for the visitors to get back on track.

Continued on Page 32. Poling, Jeff Brachell, who also did the punting for the Little Tigers, and Randall. The 16-20 record Randall, who didn't even play football last year, was the captain. Dave Harwood, captain Jack Bayer, and Benfeler, and a collection of players led by George Reynolds. Zimmerman, and Diamond. Diamond was a offense and Bayer for his blocking. "He plays hard," he said, referring to Bayer. Zimmerman accounted for the bulk of Princeton's gains on the ground.

Offensive linemen included Guy Mendelson, Angelo Arca, John Figueroa, Drummond Harwood and Warfield. "It's been a long time coming," acknowledged Wood. This year it may be the Little Tigers' turn.

PDS BEATEN, 26-0 Morristown-Beard Next. The absence of running back Bill Martin was keenly felt by the Princeton Day football team almost immediately after the opening kickoff last week, when the Panthers first offensive series of the season stalled out on the opponent's 15-yard line.

The end result, aided by several PDS miscues, was a 26-0 triumph for Germantown Friends, quite a turnaround from last year's 28-14 win by the Blue and White.

"People expect more from the phone company.

So being good isn't good enough."

Our job is to provide you with telephone service that is ever more reliable, convenient and enjoyable to use. How well we do it will depend on our success in many areas. But none is so important as the performance of our people.

At New Jersey Bell we do a lot of talking about 'spirit of service.' It's easy to see this spirit in action during storms and natural disasters when telephone employees work round-the-clock to get service back in order. Or when a telephone operator spends agonizing minutes on the line trying to calm a frightened child.

These examples come readily to mind. And rightly so. But what about the everyday commitment to service?

Some people feel it died back in the fifties. And not just at the phone company. They say people don't care these days. And that 'telephone employees aren't what they used to be.' Well, they're not. Our people look, think and act differently. They fill different roles, too. As a result, we now have male operators and female craftsmen.

In the old days, corporate concepts about devotion to duty and spirit of service were clear-cut and accepted without question. Not so today. Telephone people—young and old alike—now ask questions and demand answers. They want to know why doing something one way is better than another. They want to know that their work is meaningful and important in terms of service to others.

And this is good. Because it leads to better performance, makes for a better working atmosphere, and results in a better end product.

Sure, technology plays a large part in our business. But even the best technology in the world is only as good as the people who put it to use.

That's why we rely so heavily on the individual performances of our people. And why we back them up with good training and the most modern equipment possible.

It's also why we're spending over one million dollars every working day on construction programs. Building new facilities and expanding existing ones. We're developing new equipment, new training methods. By 1974 we plan to complete our new multi-million dollar training center.

All these things will help us do a good job. But people are, and always will be, our most valuable resource. People make the difference.

I'm proud of today's telephone people. They're better educated, better trained. And they're faced with a job that is much more complex than it was years ago. I think they have done a good job of meeting that challenge. But people have always expected more from the telephone company. So being good isn't good enough.

Our people know this. And because they're concerned and committed to helping you, they're going all out to do the best job possible.

have been Martin through the middle when important yardage was needed.

Germanantown did not get its offense going immediately either, and it wasn't until the second quarter that the visitors managed their first score on a broken play. From fourth and one on the 15, the Germanantown quarterback dropped back to pass, and then had to scramble when he found his receivers covered. His scramble took him all the way to the end zone, as two PDS players missed tackles. The conversion failed and Germanantown led 6-0 at the half.

The Panthers were able to move the ball well in the mid-field area, but never with the consistency to produce a score.

After the intermission, Germanantown added 12 more points in the third period.

An interception set up Germanantown's second score in the third period, which came on a 15-yard run, and two PDS fumbles led to the final two touchdowns in the final quarter. The last score came on a 15-yard pass behind the PDS secondary in the end zone.

The Panthers' offense was bothered in the second half by blitzing linebackers. Germanantown shot one, two or three on every play.

On the plus side for the Blue and White was the running of captain Tim Hamid, who gained over 100 yards for the day. Coach John Boneparth also cited Mark Blaxill for doing well for Martin, the play of Steve Norris, defensive end and Shawn Ellsworth, who went both ways at tackle.

PDS will have two weeks to work on cutting out mistakes, because the Croydon Hall game has been postponed until November 9. Five members of the PDS team have been suspended from school for one week, and there were no adequate replacements for them. Croydon Hall, which just started to practice last week and can use the extra time, agreed to the postponement.

Morristown - Beard, which was whipped by Pennington Prep, 24-0, last Saturday, will be the Panthers' next opponent on Friday, October 5, at 3:30 at home.

IVY INN DEFEATED

By Last Minute Score. With its first victory in the Mercer County flag football league all but in its pocket, Ivy Inn saw its hopes dashed Sunday when Joe and Lena's hit on a long touchdown pass in the final minute for a 13-8 triumph.

The desperation toss, coming on a third and 20 situation was lofted high into the air, and pulled down by a Joe and Lena's receiver surrounded by three Ivy players near the goal line. He ran it in from there.

The score wiped out an otherwise fine effort by Ivy, which had come back from a 6-0 halftime deficit to lead 8-6. Joe and Lena's scored first, but missed on a two-point conversion, leaving the door open for Ivy.

It took advantage of the situation in the second half, when quarterback Bruce Sandvik hit split end Tony Boccantuso with a 12 yard pass, and Boccantuso sprinted the rest of the way for a 60-yard touchdown. Sandvik then came right back to Boccantuso for a successful two-point conversion.

Ivy, which had its forces augmented this year, by players from the Harrison Athletic Club, ran the ball well, but could complete only four of 26 passes. After a tie last week in its season's opener, Ivy is now 0-1-1, with four tough games ahead.

In other action, Candlelight Lounge whipped P&G Smugglers 20 to 0, Jo Jo's beat the Chambersburg Chargers, 16-0, and Sportsworld nipped Ewing Giants, 14-12.

Each team will play one game on a Saturday night under the lights at the Mercer County field in Assumpink Pk. Ivy will meet the Ewing Giants this week there beginning at 7 p.m.

BACK GAINS 231 YARDS

In Pennington School Win. Junior halfback Jerry Eure scored two touchdowns and gained 234 yards Saturday as Pennington School opened its season with a 24-0 blanketing of visiting Morristown - Beard School.

Eure scored on runs of 75 and 44 yards. He advanced the ball an average of 12 yards every time he carried. Saturday, the Red Raiders will be at the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf in a Penn-Jersey League contest.

IVIES SELECT MESTRES

To Fill New Post. The Presidents of Ivy League Universities have selected Ricardo A. Mestres, a former Princeton University administrator, for the newly created position of Executive Director of the Council of Ivy League Presidents. The announcement was made this week by President John G. Kemeny of Dartmouth, current chairman of the group.

The post was created in support of the presidents' aim for greater coordination of the athletic interests of the eight Ivy institutions.

Mr. Mestres retired more than a year ago as Princeton's Financial Vice President and Treasurer after two decades as the University's principal business and financial officer.

He has been charged by the presidents to serve the collective interests of the institutions in "maintaining vigorous athletic programs that conform to the academic philosophies and standards of the member institutions;" and "controlling the mounting costs of athletic programs to the maximum degree without diminishing the value and the vitality of these programs."

Kemeny said the new Executive Director would also help the presidents in these ways:

1. Preventing Abuses. By identifying practices or trends that might threaten academic

A very small percentage of our population ever rode a stage-coach, but before 1815, stage-coach riding was as much a sport as race car driving is today. Before 1815 adequate roads were practically unknown. The Macadam was a thing of the future. This made coachriding slow and sometimes dangerous. The fastest coach ever known made the 108 miles from London to Brighton and back with eight teams and 14 changes in seven hours and fifty minutes. This was an average speed of 13.79 miles per hour.

Hawks Top Knicks in NBA Exhibition

A combination of the Bradley Legend and a desire to be in on the first National Basketball Association exhibition game played here drew a capacity crowd of 7,500 to Jadwin Gymnasium Tuesday night. The occasion proved to be one of the most low-key athletic contests ever staged here — so short of the mark of over all spectator appeal that another SRO sign may be hard to hang out despite the great validity of the occasion's charitable appeal.

Confronted with an extended 82 game regular season before the long rounds of playoffs begin next spring, neither the New York Knicks nor the Atlanta Hawks could take the occasion very seriously. When the Knicks put out even less than the opposition, they trailed from the outset, losing their third straight in pre-season action, 97 to 86.

Fortunately for the $6 a head crowd, the evening blended the return of Bill Bradley and a good performance by Hawk rookie Ted Manakas, Princeton captain, with a few spectacular prototype baskets and defensive gems. No one seemed to have expected much more, and the United Fund and the University's Scholarship Fund will benefit by several thousand dollars apiece.

The question remains, however, how much of an encore the Princeton community will buy. To coin a phrase, one factor appears crystal clear: a late September NBA exhibition game without the magnetic pull of Bradley and the Knicks would fall far short of Jadwin Gym capacity.

Judged by normal athletic standards, the contest was well below top Ivy League basketball action. The losing Knicks were guilty of 26 turnovers, the winning Hawks needed only 38 percent from the floor to prevail, and the two NBA officials were so inconsistent in their calls that they, too, need more time to regain familiarity with the game's finer points.

Understandably, both coaches used the game largely to watch their rookies. Manakas, who may not stick with Atlanta but should find an NBA berth somewhere, contributed 10 points and fine poise. He has already outlasted Harvard's Jim Brown, whom the Hawks cut with the first players to go.

Walt Bellamy, Jim Washington and Herin Gilliam, Atlanta front line operatives, did not dress; for the Knicks Earl Monroe, Dean Meminger and Phil Jackson were sidelined with injuries. Pistol Pete Maravich contributed 15 points for the victors, who were led by Lou Hudson with 17.

Walt Frazier's 16 were high for New York, with Bradley, in foul trouble early and sitting out much of the second half, held to 10. The Hawks were ahead after one period, 29-25, and led by 52-42 at the intermission. The Knicks pared their deficit to five early in the final round but that was as close as they came to achieving the victory that virtually everyone in the crowd wanted.

3. By helping to resolve in individual complaints between member institutions through his good offices when designated representatives fail to reach agreement.

Former Captain. 5. By investigating potential methods for substantial cost savings.

6. By providing a more authoritative voice to represent Ivy League interests within the National Collegiate Athletic Association or other external bodies.

A 1931 graduate of Princeton, and captain, at center, of the 1930 Princeton football team, the 63 year old Mestres had responsibilities for a Princeton budget which went from $6,000,000 when he joined the University administration in 1946 to nearly $80,000,000 when he retired a quarter century later.

Booters Win in Overtime

The Princeton High School soccer team won its opening game of the season Friday, edging visiting St. Anthony, 2-1, in double overtime.

Freddie Wilson's goal just 39 seconds into the second overtime brought the Little Tigers their win. Andy Bolster scored the Princeton first goal in the third period.

the Princeton Day soccer team opened its season Tuesday afternoon with a 2-1 triumph over Wardlaw in double overtime.

Evan Bash put the Panther booters ahead 1-0, scoring late in the second period, but after the halftime break, the visitors came back to knot the score at 1-1. It stood that way until early in the first overtime period when Greg Bash found the range for the winning tally.

The Panther team numbers 13 seniors; five are lettermen and eight are up from last year's undefeated jayvee team. Included in their number are tri-captains David Straut, Evan Bash and Cam Ferrante, each in his fourth varsity year.

Other returning seniors are halfback John Bragg and full back Mike Stix.

Three Juniors Return. Returning underclass lettermen, all juniors and each in his third varsity year are fullbacks Dave Beckwith and Grayson Ferrante and halfback Greg Bash.

Regular goaltender is junior Bill McClellan, up from last year's junior varsity.

The 1973 schedule is the jayvee team," says Bittenheim, provides the maturity and depth he needs. Forwards Ted Brown, Jamie Paterson, Doug Hatch, Fran Treves, Phil Benson and Gary Salup all are up from the 12-0-0 junior varsity of 1972. A pair of halfbacks, Ted Dowey and Cole Harrop, and a pair of fullbacks Rick Fern and Ted Thomas fill out the roster.

For the third year in a row the PDS American Field Service student is a soccer player: Swiss halfback Werner Lew.

"DAY IN, DAY OUT"

At Nassau Savings, Walter Foster, President of Nassau Savings & Loan, has announced that the Association will go on a "day in-day out" dividend basis effective Monday. The new policy means that Nassau will pay dividends on all regular savings accounts from the day of deposit to the day of withdrawal.

The value for the saver is that funds can be withdrawn from an account at any time during a quarter without losing the dividend that has accrued to the amount withdrawn during that quarter. To qualify, a customer must maintain a balance of at least $20 and keep the account open.

Nassau credits 5 1/4% per year in dividends on regular savings accounts, paid and compounded quarterly. The Association also pays 7 1/4% per year on Four-Year Savings Certificates with a $5,000 minimum, while 6 1/4% and 6% Certificates are also available. The dividends on the Certificates are also paid and compounded quarterly.

FRED PORTER NAMED

To Nassau Savings Board, Frederick M. Porter, chief of the Township Police Department, has been appointed to the board of directors of the Nassau Savings and Loan Association.

Frederick M. Porter

Mr. Porter joined the Township police in 1952, and working his way up through the ranks, was appointed chief in December, 1970.

In addition to his job as police chief, Mr. Porter has also served the community through participation in numerous non-profit projects. He has received the American Cancer Society Certificate of Appreciation, NAACP Freedom Award, Man of the Year Award from Union Baptist Church, Elizabeth Taylor Blvd. Fund Achievement Award and Cavaliers Club Achievement Award.

Walter B. Foster, Nassau Savings president, commented that Mr. Porter's appointment was a continuation of the Association's policy to broaden its liaison with the community.

News Of The CHURCHES

WOMEN'S EVENTS LISTED

By All Saints' Church. The fall activities of the Episcopal Church women of All Saints' Church, Princeton, begin Sunday with a family and newcomers picnic from 3:30 to 6:30. Families are advised to bring their own box suppers. Dessert and coffee will be furnished.

The group's first major project will be a drive to collect used clothing, especially work clothes, bedding dishes, pots and pans for the migrant workers in the Princeton Cranbury area.

Donations may be brought to the church and left in the lobby. No donations can be accepted after October 24, since the migrant workers generally leave the area by the end of October.

New officers for the Episcopal Church Women for the 1973-74 year include Mrs. Jack Keigler, president; Mrs. James Varney, vice president; Mrs. James Small, secretary; and Mrs. George Mellor, treasurer.

New committee chairman are Mrs. George McLaughlin, program; Mrs. Walter Curtice and Mrs. Howard Bellize, functions; Mrs. William Walker, United Thank Offering; Mrs. Eugene Langhans, Christian social relations; Mrs. Glen Hilt, college work; and Mrs. Robert Christie, publicity.

STUART RECEIVES FUNDS

For Catholic Scholarship. Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart has received a $15,000 grant from the Charles E. Merrill Trust to provide scholarship assistance for Catholic students at the school.

The gift has been added to the Stuart Scholarship Fund and will be awarded to students on the basis of financial need.

In announcing the gift, Sister Judith Garson, headmistress, said, "it comes at a time when the rising costs on all sides makes it increasingly difficult for parents to choose a religiously-oriented education for their children and a time too when independent schools are hard-pressed to cover their own operating expenses."

The late Charles E. Merrill was the founder of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, the brokerage firm.

QUAKERS PLAN CLASSES

For Young People. The Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) will hold a picnic Sunday at noon at the Princeton Friends Meeting, on Quaker Road just past the Mercer Street intersection. Following the picnic the parents and teachers involved in the First Day School (Sunday School) will discuss plans for this year's curriculum.

The First Day School, which includes classes for children from nursery age through high school, meets from 11 to noon on Sundays.

Areas of study this year will include nature study, people in other lands, archeology and ancient Mediterranean culture, Bible study from Abraham through Elijah, the Dead Sea Scrolls, arts and music in religion, the life and teachings of Jesus, and varieties of religious experience.

Regular Meetings for Worship are held at 9:30 and 11 Cooperative nursery care is provided for children under three at 11 a.m. only.

For more information call Barbara Forman, 921 8406, or Laura Klinger, 921 6883.

TIMES, PLACES LISTED

At Nassau Presbyterian. Compared to this, the merger proceedings look easy: As it begins its first full year of joint operations, the Nassau Presbyterian Church is trying desperately to explain who belongs where when.

Herewith the official schedule for the church, which begins its joint church school activities on Sunday.

First, the basics. Three worship services are held each Sunday: Informal worship in the round, top floor of the Chambers Street building (formerly St. Andrew's), 8:30 to 9:30; regular worship, Chambers Street sanctuary, 9:45 to 10:45; regular worship, Palmer Square sanctuary (formerly First Presbyterian), 11:15 to 12:15.

The last two services are identical. Church school is somewhat more complicated.

Three-Year-Olds. This class, led by Eleanor Thomas, will meet at 11:15 only in the basement of the Palmer Square building.

All other classes for kindergarten through eighth grade will be held in the Chambers Street building in two identical sessions, one from 9:45 to 10:45, the other from 11:15 to 12:15.

The class leaders and locations are as follows: Kindergarten, Carol Shelly first floor, room 1; first and second grades, Patty Forbes, first floor, room 2; third and fourth grades, Ann Brandon, basement, room 3; fifth and sixth grades, Margaret Migliore, basement, social hall (kitchen end); and seventh and eighth grades, Steve Boelke, basement, social hall.

High School and Adults.

These classes meet in the Palmer Square building at 9:45 and 11:15. Classes in the early session include "Three Early Theologians," "Liberation Struggles and Christian Commitment," "The Charismatic Movement," and "Welcome Aboard," a class for new church members or those considering joining.

The 11:15 class is entitled "Middle-Aged Children and Their Parents."

Also, an "enrichment hour" is held from 10:45 to 12:15 in rooms 4 and 5 of the Chambers Street building. This program provides continued activities for children whose parents are at a worship service or in an adult class.

Child care for infants and toddlers is provided from 9:45 to 12:15 at both buildings.

YOUTH WORKER TO SPEAK

At Witherspoon Church. "A Eulogy for a Dead Community." That is the title of an address that will be delivered by Leonard G. Brown, Sunday at 10:30 a.m. in the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Brown is executive director of the Princeton Youth Center. He became active in the Princeton community while he was an undergraduate at the University.

In 1969 he was one of seven original staff members for the Community House. He started at the Youth Center as a part-time program aide and succeeded Don Evans as director last March.

Also active in the Black Caucus, the Black Word, the NAACP, and the Association of Black Princeton Alumni, Mr. Brown also serves as a member of the Council of Community Services.

He has also been chairman of the Youth Concerns Committee and the Drug Committee of 13.

SYMBOLIC FILMS SET

At Theological Seminary. "David and Lisa," a film about two emotionally disturbed adolescents who meet in a psychiatric clinic will receive a free public showing at the Campus Center auditorium of Princeton Theological Seminary on Sunday, October 7, at 7:30 p.m. Bergman's "The Seventh Seal" will be shown on Sunday, October 21, at the same hour and place.

The presentations are under the direction of the Reverend Dr. Hugh T. Kerr, the Seminary's Benjamin B. Warfield Professor of Systematic Theology, in connection with his first semester class "Symbolism and Theology."

"The Seventh Seal," set in medieval Sweden, traces the homeward journey of Antonius

Block, a knight returning from the Crusades during the Black Death.

While society collapses around him and religion becomes fanatical, Block plays a game of chess with Death to protect the squire, a deaf and dumb girl and a troupe of actors who have joined him.

The title is taken from Revelation 8:1: "When the Lamb opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven."

Happenings

The most common form of construction for single family houses in the United States is the wooden-frame structure. Such frames can be finished off with a single layer of brick (brock veneer), with shingles, or with clapboard.
Stone or brick masonry construction is sometimes used for larger houses. Interior finish is usually wallboard or plaster.
Wood panelling is sometimes a necessity even in the smallest houses.

Small and large homes are available for you to see through
WALTER B. HOWE INC., 1 Palmer Sq. (924-0095), Pennington
(737-3301) and W. Windsor
(799-1100). Open 9-9. Sat. 9-5.
Sun. 1-5. Personalized Attention given all Clients.

HELPFUL HINT: Steel frame construction is generally the rule for modern apartment buildings.
